

Hélène Drouilly

Interim Chief of Staff

Hélène is the interim Chief of Staff of the Faraday Institution. Previously, Hélène spent nearly 7 years in the Energy Practice of McKinsey and Company where she worked on a wide range of topics: strategy, operations, corporate transformation, and organisation.

She gained a global perspective working across Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. Earlier in her career, Hélène also gained experience working in utilities and investment banking.

Today, Hélène works as an independent management consultant. Hélène holds a master's degree in business management from the Neoma Business School in France.

Contact

helene.drouilly@faraday.ac.uk

01235 425300